Call for Papers

The purpose of ICITA'2005 is to provide a platform for academics and engineers in all IT areas to meet, exchange ideas, and establish professional networks. It is a forum to focus on specific disciplinary research, as well as on multi-disciplinary studies. The uniqueness of ICITA is that it crosses narrowly defined subject areas and gathers researchers from not only technical areas, but also from the social science areas. Topics include, but are not limited to, the following research areas/fields:

IT in National Security	IT for Anti-Terrorist Technology Innovations (ATTI)	Security
Telecommunication and Networking	Mobile Communications	Artificial Intelligence
Computer Vision and Image Processing	Agents, Datamining and Ontologies	Multimedia
System Management	Distributed and Parallel Computing	IT in Education and Health
Computer Graphics and Visualization	Bioinformatics	Computer and Communication Systems
Signal Processing	Advanced Robotics	Cognitive Technologies
Software Engineering

Paper Submission:

Authors are invited to submit an electronic soft-copy of their draft paper (up to about 6 pages), in Adobe PDF format. Please see <http://www.computer.org/cspress/instruct.htm> for detailed paper format requirements. On-line draft paper submission is available.

The first page should include the title, the name of author(s), affiliation, mailing address, fax number, e-mail address and areas.

Publications:

Submitted papers will be fully refereed by at least two reviewers. Accepted papers will be published by IEEE Computer Society in proceedings of ICITA2005. The best papers may be selected for journal publication.

Conference Sessions and Tutorials Proposals:

The conference is calling for people to create and organize conference sessions and tutorials. Proposals for conference sessions and tutorials should include the following information:

1. Name, position and contact information of proposals,
2. Name of session or tutorial, and
3. A short description of the session or tutorial.

Each session is expected to have minimum 6 papers for presentation. Proposals should be submitted by email to: icita05@it.uts.edu.au no later than 13th December, 2004.

Important Dates:

Full paper due: 13th December, 2004 (Extended to 4th January, 2005)
Proposals for tutorials and sessions due: 13th December, 2004
Notification of acceptance: 14th March, 2005
Camera-ready paper with registration due: 11th April, 2005
